Volume 14
Numbers 1–6
Pages 1–326
1998

INTENSIVE AND CRITICAL CARE NURSING VOLUME CONTENTS 1998

Editorial – The debate of the age: the ageing population 1
Pat Ashworth

Parental presence during resuscitation: attitudes of staff on a paediatric intensive care unit 3
Anita S. Jarvis

Parental anxiety due to abnormal behaviour following withdrawal of sedation 8
Julia Hughes and Imti Choonara

Role extension or expansion: a qualitative investigation of the perceptions of senior medical and nursing staff in an adult intensive care unit 11
Susan Bowler and Maggie Mallik

Brain death in ICUs and associated nursing care challenges concerning patients and families 21
Ingvar Frid, Ingegerd Bergbom-Engberg and Hengo Haljamäe

Establishing evidence-based practice: issues and implications in critical care nursing 30
Ruth E. Taylor-Piliae

Evidence for the effectiveness of cardiac rehabilitation 38
David R. Thompson and Gerald S. Bowman

Drug therapy review – Colony stimulating factors 49

Notices 51

Subject index 53

Author index 56

Editorial – Advance thinking about Advance Directives 57
Pat Ashworth

Optimizing the human experience: nursing the families of people who die in intensive care 59
Catherine M. Andrew

Needs of the critically ill child: a review of the literature and report of a modified Delphi study 66
Ruth Endacott

The education of registered nurses for practice in paediatric intensive care units in Australia and New Zealand 74
Jaquelina Hewitt-Taylor

The perceptions of registered nurses on role expansion 82
Jonathan Carver

Nursing perspectives in meningococcal disease 91
Eilish Moore and Norma Healy

Reflection: a reflex action? 96
Martin R. Hagland

Drug therapy review – Dornase Alfa for cystic fibrosis 101

Book reviews 103

Notices 105

Editorial – Nurses now read more; what about writing too? 107
Pat Ashworth

Assessment of long-term psychological well-being following intensive care 108
Joan Perrins, Nigel King and John Collings

Family nursing in intensive care part one: is family nursing appropriate in intensive care? 117
Yvonne A. Robb

Endotracheal suctioning: a literature review 124
Caroline J. Wood

Paediatric intensive care nursing education by distance learning: an example from Canada 137
Jaquelina Hewitt-Taylor

Care of the suddenly bereaved in cardiac care units: a review of the literature 144
Linda Edwards and David G. Shaw

Drug therapy review – Analgesics in the management of chronic pain part one: general principles 153

Book reviews 155

Notices 157

Editorial – Clinical effectiveness: an old ideal but with a newer context and approach in nursing 159
Pat Ashworth

Contextualizing critical care family needs through triangulation: an Australian study 161
Gayle Burr

Can nurses safely assess the need for endotracheal suction in short-term ventilated patients, instead of using routine techniques? 170
Caroline J. Wood

The role of advocacy in critical care nursing: a caring response to another 179
Berit Lindahl and Per-Olof Sandman

A randomized trial comparing Arglaes (a transparent dressing containing silver ions) to Tegaderm (a transparent polyurethane dressing) for dressing peripheral arterial catheters and central vascular catheters 187
Maurice Madeo, Colin R. Martin, Caroline Turner, Victoria Kirkby and David R. Thompson

A comparative study of differences in the referral behaviour patterns of men and women who have experienced cardiac-related chest pain 192
Stella Foster and Maggie Mallik

Family nursing in intensive care part two: the needs of a family with a member in intensive care 203
Yvonne A. Robb

Is a murder charge an occupational hazard of intensive care nursing? 208
Chris Jones

Drug therapy review – Analgesics in the management of chronic pain part two: step 1 analgesic drug therapy 213

Book reviews 215

Notices 216

Editorial – Now – the history of the future 217
Pat Ashworth

Determining patients' suitability for thrombolysis: coronary care nurses' agreement with an expert cardiological 'gold standard' as assessed by clinical and electrocardiographic 'vignettes' 219
Tom Quinn, Aidan MacDermott and Jane Caunt

Intensive nursing care of patients with a microvascular free flap after maxillofacial surgery 225
Nicola Haskins

Barriers to evidence-based practice 231
Mark Newman, Irena Papadopoulos and Janice Sigsworth

To bag or not to bag? Manual hyperinflation in intensive care 239
Wayne P. Robson

The principles of augmenting the cardiac output in adults 244
Richard Hatchett

The evolution and nursing history of a general intensive care unit (1962–1983) 252
Ian J. Gordon and Eric Sherwood Jones

Drug therapy review – Analgesics in the management of chronic pain part three: step 2 analgesic drug therapy 258

Notices 260

Editorial: Consulting on critical care – mental as well as physical 261
Pat Ashworth

Intensive therapy unit nurses' beliefs about and attitudes towards visiting in three district general hospitals 262
Catherine I. Plowright

Inhaled nitric oxide: are the safety issues being addressed? 271
Chris Jones

Effects of extended preoperative information on perioperative stress: an anaesthetic nurse intervention for patients with breast cancer and total hip replacement 276
Ylva Lilja, Steefan Rydén and Bengt Fridlund

Cardiac and circulatory assessment in intensive care units 283
Anthony McGrath and Carol L. Cox

Should relatives of patients with cardiac arrest be invited to be present during cardiopulmonary resuscitation? 288
Rebecca J. Offord

Patients' experience of being critically ill or severely injured and cared for in an intensive care unit in relation to the ICU syndrome. Part I 294
Anetth Granberg, Ingegerd Bergbom Engberg and Dag Lundberg

Identifying the practice characteristics of advanced practitioners in acute and critical care settings 308
Leslie P. Woods

Drug therapy review – Analgesics in the management of chronic pain part four: step 3 oral analgesic drug therapy 318

Book reviews 320

Notices and News 322

Subject index 323

Author index 325